Target Audience

- The people

I want the people to have a fast and reliable ticket system experience when they finish using the system. This is for anyone wanting a simple experience booking to their destination.

- The Airlines

Airline companies is one of the target audiences as many have their own system. I want to provide a service with a reputation of simple usage and allows my system to be used in partner with other airlines.

- Ticket Market

I want to make an impact for ticket systems. I want to push into a more simple and modern accessibility for the people to use in any ticket application out there.
